Lanc his son fell heir to the original lock of hair. This son became lavolved in a heavy law suit and employed the aid of his friend, Gov. Chas.
S. Morehead, then a prominent lawyer, and fold him if he won the suit for him he would divide with him the lock of hair. Gov. Morehead, by shrewd management, won the case and came into possession of one-haif of the lock as his fee. The Governor becoming deaf in one ear, told Miss. E. man Barstow, now Mrs. R. B. Jillson, that if her remedy cared him as it had her, he would make her a handsome present, that but one other on earth could do. Her remedy proved successful and Mrs. R.
B. Jillson came into possession of onequarter of the original lock of General George Washington's hair. Gov.

The meed of merit for promoting personal asthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose Hair Vigor is a universal bautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it ranks among indispensible articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance; and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.
